

Just so you all know. Our map had slipped a bit of the malthouses bee verge/ field into the station plot in error.

Harry was right and we have now assured him that it's an error and the bees are safe.

Sent from my iPad

Begin forwarded message:

From: Rosemary Robertson <parish.clerk@btconnect.com>

Date: 6 July 2015 12:07:47 BST

To: "alison stevenson (home)" <alison.m.stevenson@btinternet.com>, 'Carol Jarvest' <caroljarvest117@hotmail.com>, catherine dennison <catherinedennison@hotmail.com>, CHARLES METCALFE <charlesmetcalfe@btopenworld.com>, Katherine Daniel <katherinedaniel@aol.com>, Mat Record <mcrecord@hotmail.com>, Nicky Gould <nicky.gould@btinternet.com>, Sue Taylor <suetaylorbalcombe@gmail.com>

Subject: Bee Hives

Harry Malthouse has just called very concerned about the beehives ... asking if the beehive land is included in the Land North of Station House development – on the questionnaire it looks as though a triangular chunk has been added – on the original Balcombe Estate presentation it is less clear? Does anyone know – I have promised to ring him back.

R